Abstract: It has been nine years since general secretary Xi Jinping came to Guizhou University. The spirit of "responsibility, responsibility, ideals, beliefs and lofty aspirations", which is the core of the university, has inspired the young people of Guizhou University to strive for the development of the country. When reviewing general secretary xi's "important speech on May 9th", it still shines with indelible brilliance and has profound educational significance to the youth in colleges and universities. Combining with the actual situation, this paper tries to put forward three paths for the youth in colleges and universities to carry forward the spirit of the May 9th movement, starting from the background, meaning and significance of the "important speech of the May 9th movement".

"The Spirit of the May 9th Important Speech" is one of the important speeches delivered by General Secretary Xi Jinping when he came to Guizhou University for investigation on May 9, 2011. Since then, Guizhou University has held relevant activities every year to review the spirit of the General Secretary's "May 9th" speech, and has established two theoretical study and research student organizations, Guizhou University Study Club and Guizhou University Study Club. These two organizations Students are often encouraged to carry out activities such as reading exchanges, theoretical presentations, theme essays, expert lectures, etc., to actively guide college youths to continuously practice the spirit of the important speech of the "May 9th".

1. The Important Speech of the May 9th and the Spirit of the May 9th

1.1. The Era Background and Significance of the Important Speech of May 9th

The spirit of the May 9th important speech is one of the new achievements of the Chinese Communist Party's theoretical innovation starting from a new historical starting point. To study conscientiously, deeply comprehend, and fully implement the spirit of this important speech must be combined with the background of the times to accurately understand and position the historical tasks of this era.

First of all, the main task of the primary stage of our society has changed. The main contradiction in our society at present is the contradiction between the people's growing need for a better life and the unbalanced and insufficient development. The key to solving this problem is to vigorously improve the quality and efficiency of development, better satisfy the people in economic, political, cultural, social life, and ecological aspects, and better promote people's development and overall social progress.

Second, stable reform and development are important issues of the times. To realize the "two centenary goals", we must unify the thinking of the Party Central Committee and guide the thinking of the entire party and the people of the whole country to the "two centenary goals" and the Chinese dream. Strengthen the strict governance of the party and insist on fighting the "tigers" and "flies" together to improve the party's image among the people. Fully implement the new development concept of "Four Comprehensives" and "Five in One" [1, 2].

Finally, follow the trend of the times and strengthen the development of informatization. Modernization, low-carbonization, and informatization have become a trend of the times, and China's governance is inseparable from the common development of all countries in the world. We should always adhere to the people-oriented principle, serve the people wholeheartedly, give play to the important role of the Internet in democratic politics, and expand citizens' orderly political participation. Maintain world peace, participate in global economic governance, and promote the development of a community with a shared future for mankind.

1.2. The Connotation of the May 9th Spirit

The May 9th spirit has become the spiritual driving force to encourage young people to strive for progress, strengthen the study of the value of the May 9th spirit, reveal the value and significance of the May 9th spirit in the new era, and continue to spread and promote it. General Secretary Xi Jinping's message to your university's students in the "Five Nine" speech: "To carry forward the Chinese culture, the purpose is to apply what you have learned, to apply the past to the present, and to serve the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation. Nowadays, there is a fashion in society to learn Chinese studies, and at the same time there are also many learning exchanges that penetrate the Eastern and Western cultures. These are all good. But the purpose of learning must be clarified. You must not treat ancient civilizations as antiques or furnishings, and you must not eat the ancients without turning them into cocoons, but turn them into an endogenous source. Motivation, as our nourishment, is just like the ancients proposed the unity of knowledge and action, the application of things, and the application of the world [3, 4]."

2. The Enlightenment of the May 9th Spirit to the Youth in Colleges and Universities

2.1. Be a New Youth Who Loves the Motherland

Lin Zexu's "You can live and die in a country, so you can avoid misfortune and good fortune", and Fan Zhongyan's "Being high in the temples will worry the people and be in the rivers and lakes." If you are far away, you are worried about your monarch." Yue Fei's Man Jianghong and Zhu Ziqing are seriously ill, and would rather starve to death than receive American relief food; in the literary and art world, patriotism interprets the same patriotic thought in a different way. Won the first Golden Record Award, the theme song "My Motherland" of the movie "Shangganling" sung by teacher Guo Lanying is familiar to us Chinese. "A big river with wide waves and wide wind blows the fragrance of rice and flowers on both sides", sincere, simple, cordial and vivid The lyrics deeply express the strong feelings of family and country, express our Chinese people's honest and sincere feelings to the fullest, and sing the infinite love of volunteer soldiers for the motherland and hometown. The mother river, the fragrance of rice flowers, all carry the love for the motherland in our hearts, and all are concerned about our Chinese heart. Wang Jicai, who "guarded the island and defended the country for 32 years, wrote great love in the ordinary", he used his life to explain to us the ideal of "family and country depend on each other, and country can have family". It was 1986. At the age of 26, he resolutely accepted the task of guarding the island. After that, he and his wife guarded the deserted Kaishan Island for 32 years. The two spent their entire lives and dedicated their best to the motherland. In 2020, Xichang Forest Fire killed 19 firefighters. The oldest is 47 years old and the youngest is only 24 years old. They shuttled through the streets of the city, walked on the high mountains, and forged ahead in the storm. They were also young people like us, because they were in military uniforms. Even if the life and death in front of them were uncertain, as long as the police issued them, obey the orders and listen. Party command is the only thing they can do [5].

As young people in the new era, they should take the initiative to worry about the destiny of the nation, take the initiative to shoulder the responsibility of the times, awaken the nation's awakening, and use magnificent undertakings to inspire generations to move forward and strive forward, and fully explain the great power of patriotism. Contribute to the prosperity of the motherland and the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation.

2.2. To be a Brave and Responsible New Youth

A generation has a long march. Looking back on the past, after the failure of the fifth anti-encirclement and suppression campaign, the Central Red Army, led by Comrade Mao Zedong as a representative, led a long march youth team with an average age of less than 30 years old, traveling about 25,000 miles, crossing mountains and rivers. It took two years to walk through the barren land and over the icy snow-capped mountains. It took two years, marked by the meeting of the Red First, Second and Fourth Front Army in Huining, Gansu, and ended this long march with infinite suffering. This triumphant reunion made the red gene widely spread, expanded the influence of the Chinese revolution, and became a great miracle in human history. It was widely praised by future generations and passed on through the ages. The youths of the May Fourth Movement have the courage to shoulder their responsibilities. They shoulder the responsibility of awakening China in times of crisis. The youths of the Long March also have the courage to shoulder them. They are for the victory of the revolution and to establish an independent peace without humiliation as soon as possible. In the democratic new China, in order to end the war and reunite with their families as soon as possible, they dedicated their youth to the revolution and devoted themselves to the revolutionary war to create an era of peace and to defend the country. The May Fourth Movement opened the chapter of the Chinese youth movement. Since then, Chinese youth have been on the big stage of history as an independent and powerful leader. At the moment of national humiliation, they stood up and saved hundreds of millions of people from suffering.

2.3. To be a New Youth with Moral Integrity and Aspiration

Mr. Wang Yangming once said that there is nothing that can be done in the world. Su Zi also said that people who set great things in ancient times are not only talents who are superior to the world, but also have perseverance. Zhou Enlai also encouraged everyone to have the ambition to be a generation of heroes and to be a pioneer of a generation. In the new era, General Secretary Xi also advocated that young people should be aspiring people, be determined to do great things, not be determined to be high officials, and pointed out the right direction for our young people in life. Lei Feng, a young man who has contributed his entire life to the splendid cause of communism, a young man who devoted his limited life to an infinite cause, when he sacrificed, he was only 22 years old that year, but left the spirit of nails in the earth. When a sudden new type of coronary pneumonia came at the beginning of 2020, there was a Weibo hot topic "The Most Beautiful Back View". The post-90s who used to write their names on their school uniforms have become white soldiers with their names on their protective clothing. With the protective clothing on the body, we cannot see their faces clearly. We don't know who they are, but what we know is them. For whom, their persistence makes us feel at ease. In times of crisis, the post-90s generation used their retrograde and weak body to build a copper and iron wall to prevent and control the epidemic. In the new era, to achieve two centenary goals, the Chinese Communist Party has led hundreds of millions of people to create a miracle in the history of human development-to fight for the poor and alleviate poverty. The fight for poverty is the tough battle among the goals. On this battlefield without gunpowder, from the southwest in the northwest, countless virtuous and ambitious people chase the people's dreams with selflessness and noble virtues, and burn the blazing light of faith with their blood.

In the new era, young people should come to the hardest line with great love, overcome difficulties, give full play to their talents, pursue the value of life, serve the society, enrich themselves, improve themselves, and feel life. In the society, they care for the disadvantaged groups in the society, carefully observe the surrounding environment, and actively pay attention to the important issues of the state, thus spreading their youthful aspirations on the land of the motherland.

3. The Path of Carrying Forward the Spirit of the May Ninth Festival among College Youth

3.1. Carry Forward the Spirit of the May Ninth Movement and Cultivate Patriotism

General Secretary Xi Jinping emphasized that young people should cultivate patriotism, strengthen the country's ambitions, and practice the journey of serving the country. "With the heart of worrying about the country and the people, patriotism and love for the people, we should continue to contribute to the motherland and people, and devote ourselves to the whole life. A lifetime of tenacious struggle to embody patriotism let the great banner of patriotism always fly high in my heart [6-9] ". At present, our country is in the stage of a decisive battle against poverty. The majority of young people should establish the concept of "the motherland's needs are paramount", adhere to Marxism-Leninism, Mao Zedong Thought, Deng Xiaoping Theory, the important thought of the Three Represents, scientific development, and Xi Jinping's new era of socialism with Chinese characteristics. Thinking, the destiny of the nation, the development of the country, and the interests of the people, go to the places where the people need them, to the places where the motherland needs the most, spread their patriotic enthusiasm on the vast land of the motherland, and continues to learn and familiarize them. Read the national poverty alleviation policy, exercise what you have learned, and adapt measures to local conditions to help poor families solve their difficulties, establish their own enthusiasm and initiative in production, and strengthen the confidence of poor families to overcome poverty. Use your own true feelings to encourage them, infect them, impress them, and ultimately drive them. Breathe with the people, share the destiny, make progress with the development of the motherland, work hard for the early completion of poverty alleviation, realize the goal of building a well-off society in all respects, and forge a bright future for China.

3.2. Carry Forward the Spirit of the May Ninth Festival and Conduct in-depth Theoretical Study

In the form of language expressions such as preaching, youths are organized to exchange learning experiences and deepen their mastery of theory. In addition to such offline activities, the Youth University learns online group lessons and learns about the theory of knowledge software such as the powerful country, which provides a way for young people in another way. "Youth Learning" provides online group lessons through the introduction of themed group classes, targeted poverty alleviation, and cultural products such as "Little Pear Group Classes", and further elaborates on the online group classes, and continuously expands the youth mass base of "Youth Learning". The learning power client has set up modules such as "learning new ideas", "learning culture", "global vision", "learning" and "video learning", covering a large number of free-to-read periodicals, books, movies, books, etc. Information and rich theoretical knowledge. The establishment of these two learning platforms is a powerful starting point for implementing General Secretary Jinping's important instructions on strengthening learning, building a great country for learning, and promoting the learning of the whole party. It is also a powerful way to promote the continuous and in-depth study and implementation of Xi Jinping's new era of socialism with Chinese characteristics. Important move. Learning Marxism-Leninism, learning the party's knowledge and policies, and consciously being young people who support and support the party in the new era are what young people must experience on the way to become socialist builders and successors. In the new era, only by using Marxism-Leninism and Xi Jinping's thoughts on socialism with Chinese characteristics in the new era to correctly guide the promotion and propaganda of the May 9th spirit can our thinking stay on track [10, 11].

3.3 Carry Forward the May Ninth Festival Spirit and Cultivate the Spirit of Self-study and Self-knowledge

Innovation is the soul of a nation's progress, is the driving force for the prosperity of a country and the spirit had been to college youth enlightenment predecessors "new-confucianism, too, do not do" spirit, according to the current domestic and foreign development present situation, development combining with all kinds of social forces, innovation to develop a more suitable path for China's development path and to promote the development of the society and the progress of the nation. To carry forward the Spirit of the May ninth Movement, new ways should be created on the basis of the publicity of previous books, newspapers and periodicals, combined with the development environment of The Times and the communication media. For example, increase the publicity, promotion and learning of the May ninth Spirit on the Internet, or organize a variety of cultural and artistic activities, stage plays, dances and operas, as well as the production of interview programs and documentaries according to the May ninth Spirit, so as to give a new way to publicize the May ninth Spirit. Practice is the only criterion to test the truth, strengthen the social practice of college youth, in social practice to find the truth and test the truth. Jump out of the book theory of the strange circle, to "come from the paper to feel shallow, must know this matter to practice" attitude more thinking, more communication, theory and practice combined to make their own contribution to the social cause.

4. Conclusion

Young people of different eras have all the social characteristics of their own era, but what has never changed is that every generation of youth is eagerly looking forward to the prosperity of the motherland and the prosperity of the nation. History and reality have proven that Chinese youth are youths with lofty ideals, youths with patriotic feelings, youths with infinite creativity, and the young generation will eventually be pioneers on the road to the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation. As passionate young people in the new era, we shoulder the great ideal and historical mission of building the motherland and realizing the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation. Although our destiny is in our own hands, countless individuals gather and the country's destiny is dependent on each other, regardless of environmental difficulties. In order to better complete the tasks given to us by history. At present, our country is in a period of social transformation, where crises, problems and opportunities coexist. We should work hard to learn all kinds of skills, comprehensive cultural knowledge, constantly improve ourselves, improve our knowledge system, and improve our practical ability to accumulate strong skills for social development in order to better serve the society. The country is prosperous when young people are strong, and the country is strong when young people are strong. The young generation has ideals, skills, and responsibilities, the country has a future, and the nation has hope. We should follow the development trend of the times, use our vigorous youth, strive to realize the great social ideals in our hearts, breathe with the motherland and share the same destiny, keep in mind the spirit of the important speech of May 9th, and should carry forward the spirit of May 9th as our mission. Be a qualified new youth of the era.
