Abstract: Xi Jinping Thought on Socialism with Chinese Characteristics for a New Era is the latest theoretical results of the Sinicization of Marxism, as the guiding ideology of the CPC and the people's Republic of China, it is an organic combination of theory and Practice, the crystallization of the collective wisdom of the CPC and all the Chinese people, it's with distinctive Chinese characteristics, and it has made great achievements in guiding China's economic and social development, Reform and Opening-up in practice, with great international influence and respected for many countries in the world. and it plays a very crucial role in the treatment and settlement of many international problems and conflicts, and it is the object of study, research and reference in many countries. As theoretical founders, The CPC and the whole Chinese people, which should have a high sense of national pride, firmly believing in it's correctness and scientific nature , establishing a high degree of theoretical confidence.

When the great judgment of the New Era was formed in The 19th National Congress of the CPC, the Chinese Communists represented by General Secretary Xi Jinping summarized the practical and theoretical experience gained in reform, opening-up, and socialist modernization, around this basic theoretical question which what kind of socialism with China's characteristics should be adhered to and developed in the New Era, and how to adhere to and develop socialism with Chinese characteristics, significant success have been made in theoretical innovation, forming Xi Jinping Thought on Socialism with Chinese Characteristics for a New Era. It is the inheritance and development of classical Marxism and the latest results of Sinicization of Marxism, and it is the crystallization of the collective wisdom and practical experience of the CPC and the whole people, and a very crucial part of the theoretical system of socialism with China's characteristics, and the action guiding for the CPC and the whole people to strive for the Chinese nation's great rejuvenation.

With the coming of the New Era and the emergence of new theories -- Xi Jinping Thought on Socialism with Chinese Characteristics for a New Era, we must learn to use the new thought theory to guide the new practice in the New Era, and we must construct a highly profound theoretical self-confidence for it. As the most correct and scientific ideological theory of the new era, the highly profound theoretical self-confidence of this Thought, which not only from its own unique characteristics and important practical guidance value, but also from its significant and profound international influence.

1. Foundation of Xi Jinping Thought on Socialism with Chinese Characteristics for a New Era.

1.1. The Ideological and Theoretical Foundation of Xi-Thought.

The ideological and theoretical foundation of Xi-Thought originated from classical Marxism-Leninism, and these classical scientific thought theory which have been proved right by the practice. These classical theories and thoughts are a collection of scientific worldviews and methodologies, it has played a crucial guiding part in the practice and development of human society, and has greatly promoted the development and progress of human society, and its correctness and scientific nature have been proved by the practice of human society. It is the inheritance, enrichment, and development of these classical thoughts and theories under the background of the historical environment of the New Era, not only adhere to the classical thoughts and theories, but also combine the new practice to enrich and innovate the theory, forming new ideological and theoretical achievements that meet the needs of the times. It is the result of ideological and theoretical innovation in the new era, which is formed by combining classical ideological theories with new practices. The correctness and scientific nature of theory is the foundation of the building of theoretical belief, and it is also the internal factor and important power to conquer people's hearts, Xi-Thought is formed by combining classical theories with the new historical environment and new practices in the New Era, its correctness and scientific nature arouses people's learning requirements and learning spirit, this is an important internal factor and a strong driving force for the building of theoretical belief.

1.2. The Practical Foundation of Xi-Thought.

The theory comes from practice, Xi-Thought as a great thought and theory, also comes from practice. The great practice of socialist modernization building and reform and opening-up under the lead of the CPC in the new era is the practical foundation for the emergence of it, at the same time, its correctness is verified in this great practice. The process of practice calls for theoretical guidance, with the continuous deepening and development of the practice of socialist modernization building and reform and opening-up, it requires the corresponding theory as its guidance, It is in this circumstances that Xi-Thought comes into being and develops with the practice of the new era, at the same time, in the practice of the new era, we constantly judge and test the correctness and scientific nature of this ideology and theory and correct it in time. Xi-Thought originated from the practice of the new era in China, has played a vital leading and guiding role in China's socialist modernization building and reform and opening-up, and made significant achievements. Therefore, we must firmly believe in the correctness and scientific nature of this theory, which comes from the practice of the new era, firmly maintain and develop it, and strengthen our theoretical belief.

1.3. Xi-Thought Is the Crystallization of The Collective Experience and Wisdom of The CPC and The Entire Chinese People.

Xi-Thought is the crystallization of the collective experience and wisdom of the CPC and the entire Chinese people represented by Xi Jinping. In the process of the formation and development of this theory, the CPC represented by Xi Jinping, take the lead in setting an example, tightly combining the practice of the new era with the actual needs of Chinese economic and social development, a series of important theoretical innovations have been carried out on the basis of inheriting the predecessors' classical theories and thoughts, and many new theories, thoughts and viewpoints have been put forward. For example, "four comprehensive" strategic thinking, "China dream" and many other thoughts, these theories and thoughts are the result of the unremitting exploration and efforts of the CPC in leading the masses of the people in the great practice of socialist modernization building and reform and opening-up in the new era, in the process, many party leaders have put forward many new thoughts, theories and viewpoints based on their own theoretical thinking and working practice by combining theory with practice, and these new thoughts, theories, and viewpoints which have proven to be correct in practice, which are summarized and integrated into Xi-Thought. At the same time, many of its thoughts, theories and viewpoints are the result of collective discussion and research by the CPC Central Committee represented by Comrade Xi Jinping, which is the crystallization of collective wisdom. In the great practice of socialist modernization building and reform and opening-up in the new era, the broad masses of people are also in practice, combining theory with practice, and forming many thoughts, theories and viewpoints with important reference value and practical significance, and these thoughts, theories and viewpoints proved to be correct and scientific in practice are also an important part of it. The crystallization of the collective experience and wisdom of the party and the entire people have contributed it, therefore, we must firmly believe in the leadership of the CPC, the historical status and great power of the people, the correctness and scientific nature of the theory jointly created by them, and the self-confidence of Xi-Thought.

2. Xi-Thought Has Distinctive Chinese Characteristics

Xi-Thought has distinctive Chinese characteristics, its theoretical framework and content are based on the national conditions and realities of the New Era of China, on the basis of inheriting the predecessors' ideological theories, reflecting the requirements of all aspects of China's economic and social development and the characteristics of the New Era, the theoretical content it elaborates is centered on solving the current problems in China and promoting China's future development. That is to say, this theoretical system is originated from China and completely Chinese ,it is the product of the national environment and conditions with Chinese characteristics, Without the real national conditions of the New Era of China, the current reality of China, and all aspects of China's economic and social development, there would be no germination, formation, maturity and development of Xi-Thought, therefore, this thought has been deeply imprinted in China since its birth, its formation, maturity, and development are inseparable from China, it is a scientific summary of Chinese experience and Chinese wisdom . At the same time, this thought, which uses pure Chinese cultural forms in its rhetorical methods and language expression, is a brilliant theoretical work that embodies the spirit of Chinese culture, it not only inherits and develops the traditional Chinese culture, but also keet pace with the times, combines with the reality, shows the new meaning of the Chinese culture, and integrates the new spirit of The Times and the ideological theory into it. This thought is a profound condensed and concentrated show of Chinese thought and culture, which has distinctive Chinese characteristics and Chinese elements, and is the guiding ideology and theoretical belief of the Chinese nation, scientific thoughts and theories based on national culture and national belief are easier for people to understand and accept ,it can further stimulate their interest and pride in learning and application, and strengthen the theoretical self-confidence of Xi-Thought.

3. Xi-Thought Has Made Remarkable Achievements in Guiding Socialist Modernization Building, Reform and Opening-up with Chinese Characteristics

Xi-Thought originates from practice, and at the same time it guides the new practice in the process of practice, every step of socialist modernization building and reform and opening-up needs to be guided by scientific theories, and this thought provides us with effective top-level design, theoretical guidance, and road guidance to carry out a new practical process in practice, enable us to take less detours, dangerous roads, or even evil roads in the practice of socialist modernization building and reform and opening-up, give full play to the guiding part of scientific theory and realize the great positive reaction of theory to practice. It is under the guidance of this correct ideology and theory derived from practice that our socialist modernization construction and the cause of reform and opening-up have made tremendous and amazing achievements in practice. This shows the great guiding value and significance of Xi-Thought for the new practice under the background of the historical environment of the New Era. Without this thought, there would be no China today, which is prosperous and proud of the world, no great achievements in China's reform and opening-up and the practice of socialist modernization construction today, no prerequisite and foundation for China to forge ahead and develop and progress in practice in the future. It is based on the tremendous positive reaction of this thought to Chinese practice and the earth-shaking changes brought to our economic and social development, in the New Era, we should pay more attention to the important guiding role of scientific theory in practice, firmly strengthen the theoretical self-confidence in this thought, consciously study it, apply it, maintain it and develop it, and guide our new great practice with this.

4. Xi-Thought Has Extremely Wide Range of International Influence

World-renowned success has been made as the guidance of Xi-Thought in China's social development and economic, buliding and reform and opening-up,at the same time, it also provides a lot of useful help, reference for the social development and economic and building and reform of other countries in the world, human development and progress, and the handling and resolution of international relations and contradictions and conflicts.

Under the guidance of Xi-Thought, the successful experience of China's economic and social development and reform provides an significant theoretical reference and practical model for other countries in the world, especially those with similar national conditions to China, Some nations and countries unwilling to lag behind can conduct in-depth study and research China's advanced building and development experience, and understand and master it, at the same time, it should be targeted for application in accordance with the specific building and development of their own country, promote the development and building and reform of the country's economy and society, improve people's livelihood, realize scientific development, green developmen and tharmonious development. The function of theory is endless, once the theory is mastered by human, it will produce great practical power, as the correct and scientific ideological theory, Xi-Thought not only guides the development and building and reform of China's economy and society, but also guides the one of other countries' economic and social development to a certain extent, this is a victory of ideology and theory created by all Chinese people represented by Comrade Xi Jinping to the whole world, this is a huge ideological victory for the world scientific socialism, and the international communist movement, which originates from the ideological power of China, it shows that under the guidance of it, scientific socialism has taken root not only in socialist China, but also in other countries, shows its strong vitality, and demonstrates the huge international influence and self-confidence of Chinese theory, Chinese model, Chinese road, Chinese system, Chinese experience and Chinese culture.

On the other hand, with the further enhancement and development of China's national strength, China, as a big country with an important position in the world, its influence, appeal and shaping power are increasing day by day, China plays a more and more important role and plays a vital role in the management and resolution of the development of many human world and international problems and conflicts. As a responsible major country in the world, the CPC represented by Xi Jinping, guided by Xi-Thought, comprehensively promote major country diplomacy with China's characteristics, advocate the construction of a community of shared future for mankind and promote the reform of the global governance system. In view of the handling and resolution of some thorny international problems. In response to the handling and settlement of some intractable international problems, the Chinese people, in light of actual situation and the wishes of various parties, realistic requirements and special difficulties arising from the problems, guided by Xi-Thought, creatively put forward a series of Chinese solutions, Chinese ideas, Chinese patterns to solve problems and difficulties using Chinese wisdom, this provides significant theoretical reference and intellectual support for the handling and settlement of many important international issues and disputes, at the same time, in the application and practice of it, more and more important international issues and disputes are being or have been solved gradually, the interests of all parties are safeguarded, contradictions and conflicts are resolved, this makes China win more and more international respect and support, and China's international status is further enhanced. As a responsible major country, China will increasingly shoulder more international responsibilities and obligations, maintain the harmony and stability of the world, promote the construction of a community of shared future for mankind, creat a better future for mankind together.

5.Summary

As the most correct and scientific ideology and theory of the new era, Xi-Thought, from foundation that emerged, the distinctive Chinese characteristics and Chinese spirit demonstrated, the world-renowned success in guiding the socialist modernization building and the practice of reform and opening-up with Chinese characteristics, and its extremely broad influence on the international community and the whole world, all these show that it is correct and scientific and
